

SPORTS

...e in Stewart crash

repeatedly said SunJet, which has since been sold, was not responsible for the crash.

On Tuesday, Administrative Judge William Pope asked Veatch if the elder Watkins had anything to do with the crash.

"He falsified documents," Veatch said. "He had been complicit in some of the wrongdoing by SunJet."

The FAA will present evidence that Watkins falsified the training records of six other pilots and should be permanently grounded, Veatch said.

Defending champs advance in Four-Ball

HOLLYWOOD — Defending champions Nicky Lumb and Stephanie Cover-ly were easy first-round winners Wednesday in the 55th annual Women's International Four-Ball Championship at Orangebrook Golf Club.

Playing the 6,000-yard, par-71 West course, where they earned medalist honors Tuesday with a 70, Lumb of Bristol, England, and Coverley of Yorkshire, England, defeated the 16th seeds, Pat Case of Fort Lauderdale and Jan Cranman of Coral Springs, 5 and 4.

In the second round today, Lumb and Coverley meet Courtney Montgomery of Palm Beach and Evelyn Blackmon of Nashville, Tenn. Montgomery and Blackmon ousted the local team of Chantal Entwistle and Marie Keegan 2 and 1.

The championship continues through to the 36-hole final Saturday.

Four-Ball rematch

HOLLYWOOD — A rematch of the 2000 finals is set for today in the 55th annual Women's International Four-Ball Championship at Orangebrook Golf Club.

In the semifinals Friday, defending champions Nicky Lumb of Bristol, England, and Stephanie Coverley of Yorkshire, England, downed Marlene Streit of Wellington and Carol Semple Thompson of Sewickley, Pa., 6 and 5, while Marianne Springer and Mary Hanyak of Wellington outlasted Carolyn Creekmore of Dallas, Texas, and Lisa Morrissette of Carmel, Ind., on the first extra hole. The 36-hole final begins at 7:30 today.

Women's International Four-Ball Tournament

At Orangebrook Golf Club
Wednesday's first round schedule
(qualifying scores in parenthesis)

- 7:10 a.m.: Nicky Lumb, Bristol, England, and Stephanie Coverley, Yorkshire, England (70), vs. Pat Case, Fort Lauderdale, and Jan Cranman, Coral Springs (82).
- 7:20: Courtney Montgomery, Palm Beach, and Evelyn Blackmon, Nashville, Tenn. (76), vs. Chantal Entwistle, Pembroke Pines, and Marie Keegan, Hollywood (77).
- 7:30: Marlene Streit, Wellington, and Carol Semple Thompson, Sewickley, Pa. (73), vs. Judy Blum, Tamarac, and Joan King, Jupiter (80).
- 7:40: Janell Howland, Beaumont, Texas, and Margie Bowles, Palm City (73), vs. Meredith Wolf and Barbara Magie, Wellington (79).
- 7:50: Tinker Sanger, Hydes, Md., and Natalie McNicholas, Lutherville, Md. (71), vs. Paula Tucker and Yvette Hemphill, Miami (81).
- 8:00: Marianne Springer and Mary Hanyak, Wellington (76), vs. Ronnie Hall, Hollywood, and Joan Madonna, Plantation (78).
- 8:10: Gale Brudner, Wellington, and Andrea Kraus, Baltimore, Md. (72), vs. Shannon Adams and Mary Ida Graham, Senatobia, Miss. (81).
- 8:20: Carolyn Creekmore, Dallas, Texas, and Lisa Morrissette, Carmel, Ind. (74), vs. Mary Ellen Driscoll, New Brunswick, and Jo Glenn, Tulsa, Okla. (78).

TO JACK MATHISON
DAVID FLAHERTY,
DAVID LOTTOS

PRESS FOR FOUR BALL

PROVIDED BY

BRIAN GILCHRIST
+
JERRY SCHLICK

English duo romps

HOLLYWOOD — English Nicky Lumb and Stephanie Coverley continued their march toward a second consecutive title in the 55th annual Women's International Four-Ball Championship at Orangebrook Golf Club.

The qualifying medalists Tuesday with a 70, Lumb, of Bristol, and Coverley, of Yorkshire, won their second round match 6 and 5 over Courtney Montgomery of Palm Beach and Evelyn Blackmon of Nashville, Tenn., on the par-71 West course.

Pat Case of Fort Lauderdale and Jan Cranman of Coral Springs shot 72 to win a consolation event for teams beaten in the first round. Case and Cranman lost Wednesday to Lumb and Coverley 5 and 4.

Elsewhere